

4. The Egg

Axel quickly walked over to the egg. It had fallen out of the tree.

Seff had cleverly caught it before it hit the ground.

He had sensibly put it down without breaking it.

Axel gently picked it up to look at it. Luckily, it was not broken.

“Good boy,” he said and he kindly patted Seff on the head.

Seff happily smiled back at him.

“Come on, Dusk,” Axel said. “Let’s get this egg back to the cave.”

Axel and Dusk carefully carried the egg back through the forest.
